Noted Black Mare Imp to Be Sold at Auction CHICAGO, April 11.—The noted black mare Imp is soon to be sold at public auction to close up the estate of the late Dan Harness. This announcement was made to-day by C. E. Brossman, the trainer who had charge of the mare during the time that she made of the mare during the time that she made such a record for herself and which still stands unequalled by any thoroughbred of her sex. "She has been appraised at $2,250, which is only a mite in comparison to her true value," said Mr. Brossman. "When I had her several offers of $20,000 were made to Dan Harness for the mare, but they were quickly refused. Mr. Harness died during the winter at his home in Chillicothe, which is also my home. This necessitated the sale of the entire stable, which also includes Sciota, a full sister to Imp. The filly is a two-year-old. In the sale will also be Fondling, the dam of Imp, as well as Gadabout, a three-year-old.

There are now twenty-eight ponies in England for the team, exclusive of the seven brought over there first for Keene.

On Tuesday the annual meeting and dinner of the Polo Association will be held at the Metropolitan Club. The meeting will probably be the best attended in the ten years life of the Association, for every club but one in the twenty-six entitled to send delegates, has sent word that it will be represented. The principal business will be the arrangements of dates for the season's tournaments. A special announcement will be that William A. Hazard of the Rockaway Hunting Club, who three or four seasons ago put up a cup to be played for annually at Cedarhurst by teams of three made up of junior players, has given cups to be played for annually on similar conditions by the junior players of the Philadelphia and Boston clubs. This year the Philadelphia boys will play for their cup at Bryn Mawr and the Bostonians at Dedham. The winners, after the initial tournaments, will have the choice of the ground.

The first tournament of the Eastern season, for the Gould and Herbert trophies, will be at the Polo Club of Lakewood, during the last fortnight of April. The entries close the day after the annual meeting of the Polo Association.

College Matches a Feature To-day-Garden City Meeting.

All the teams to take part in the intercollegiate tournament in May will be on the links to-day except Harvard. Yale plays at the Orford links, Pennsylvania at Wissa-hickon, Columbia at the Westchester Golf Club and Princeton at Baltusrol.

The public links at Van Cortlandt Park and Pelham Bay Park are to be reopened to-day and there will be a crowd of players on each course to note the improvements that have been made. Formal play on local links include events at the Crescent A. C., Rich-mond Country Club, Newark A. C. and Lake-wood.

The only business of importance at the annual meeting of the Garden City Golf Club at Delmonico's on Wednesday night was the election of four governors for three-year terms: William M. Baldwin, G. F. Crane, Devereaux Emmett and P. R. Jennings being elected to succeed themselves. An invitation tournament will be held by the Garden City Golf Club on May 1, 2 and 3.

AUTOMOBILISTS AND OTHERS AT PUBLIC HEARING.

Many Argue in Favor of a More Liberal Law for Automobiles and Bicycles - Commissioner Woodbury Willing to Take Charge of Street Sprinkling

A public hearing of much general interest was held before the Committee on Laws and Legislature, with Alderman Armitage Mathews in the chair, in the City Hall yester-

A public hearing of much general interest was held before the Committee on Laws and Legislature, with Alderman Armitage Mathews in the chair, in the City Hall yesterday. Two pending ordinances, one on street sprinkling and the other on the regulation of street and highway traffic, were the subjects, both having been introduced by Alderman Joseph Oatman. As these measures have a peculiar interest for drivers, cyclists, automobilists, truck owners and cabmen, all these classes were represented, as well as the letter carriers and several other associations.

The street sprinkling ordinance offered provides in substance that the present contract for street watering, which expires April 26, 1903, shall not be renewed, but that after that date the Department of Street Cleaning shall have entire charge of this matter and have the streets watered and sanded by teams and wagons belonging to the department commissioner Woodburys aid that he was entirely willing to have his department have charge of the sprinkling of American Wheelmen explained that the cordinance was put forward at this time in order that a year of time might be afforded the Street Cleaning Commissioner to prepare for the transfer of this work from the present contractor to his department. The idea of the Street was and the maintenance of the present contractor to his department. The idea of the Street Cleaning Commissioner to prepare for the transfer of this work from the present contractor said that he was charge of the sprinkling if it could get the necessary money. He estimated that the cost of wagons, horses, harness and the maintenance of them would reach $500,000. J B Thompson of the League of American Wheelmen explained that the ordinance was put forward at this time in order that a year of time might be afforded the Street Cleaning Commissioner to prepare for the transfer of this work from the present contractor to his department. The idea of the ordinance is to stop the excessive drenching of the streets. There was no opposition offered to the bill.

The city ordinances proposed are the revised set prepared by a committee of wheelmen, road drivers and others, and they have been pending for two years. The ordinances now in force are those which existed before the consolidation of the greater city. The new ones were printed in full in the City Record of Feb. 6. They provide, among other things, that bicycles, tricycles, automobiles and street cars shall have a speed limit of ten miles an hour. That horse-drawn pleasure carriages shall not exceed eight miles an hour, and other vehicles five miles an hour. They require surface cars to come to a full stop before crossing a large number of specified streets which are asphalted and the scene of much travel. The right of way on asphalt strips is specifically given to the vehicles that may run at ten miles an hour, and a strip six feet wide is required to be left in the middle of asphalted streets by sprinkling carts.

The only feature about these ordinances that provoked discussion was that involving the speed question. The present speed limit for all vehicles is eight miles an hour. The West End Association, which has figured as an objector at many public hearings, was represented by John L. Brower, chairman of its Grievance Committee. Mr. Brower expressed many grievances against automobiles. He strenuously opposed their being allowed to go as fast as ten miles an hour, and gave the impression that he objected to their existence. Dave H. Morris, eight miles an hour. He estimated the number of motor cars in use in New York at two or three thousand.

With regard to getting beyond control, Mr. Stevens said that this did not happen as often with automobiles as it clid with horses. He said that the manufacturers instruct all purchasers and he knew of instances where sales had been refused to incompetent men. R. G. Bets, Prosident of the Metropole Cycling Club, brought out the interesting point that the anateur walking record for eight miles is thour 2 minutes 8% seconds, made in 1880, while the one-hour record is seven miles, 1,318 yards both made by J. B. Clark in the same race. He said that at eight miles an hour a cyclist was apt to wabble and be a nuisance and argued that there was no pleasure in a ride on a bicycle or in an automobile at eight miles an hour, which is but little better than a rapid walking pace. Alderman Oatmen, J. B. Thompson, of the L. A. W. James Van Dyck, W. P. Stevens, Percy Owens, L. C. Roardman and Will R. Pitman also spoke in favor of the increased rate of speed. Mr. Owensof the Automobile club in response to a query concerning the likelihood of an automobile exploding deciared that one could be driven right through a tank of gasolene with perfect safety. A man who declared himself *z plain taxpayer with no particular interests at stake, but the good of the city at that those of wealth, lefsure and city to attract those of wealth, lefsure and would encourage automobilists to dwel the city and that it was a good thing for the city and that it was a great taking to the city to attract those of wealth, lessure and cultivation to dwell in it, therefore he approved of the ordinances.

The meeting demonstrated a new state of harmony between automobilists, drivers, cyclists and truck men

BASEBALL. New Yorks Beat the University of Maine Team by Score of 7 to 2.

The New Yorks were finally able to get in some more much-needed playing yesterday. They met the University of Maine team at the Polo Grounds and showed more ability with the bat than in their previous games. After being very weak for three innings before the pitching of Mitchell, whose de-livery embraced balls of considerable variety, livery embraced balls of considerable variety, they opened up in the fourth inning and hit cleanly and consecutively. Barring a good stop by Lauder and a smart double play by the college men, there was nothing of moment in the fielding line in the game. Thielman, who pitched for the New Yorks, is the Manhattan College pitcher and is a brother of the New York team's Thielman. He was in the box for four innings. Except for the lively work of Jack Doyle, the New Yorks ran bases poorly yesterday. Doyle came all the way home from second while the catcher was throwing Smith out at first. For failure to have their wits about them three of the New Yorks were caught napping on the bases. Collins played a clever first base for the Maine team. The score:

DURLAND'S SPRING SHOW ENDS

HORSE IS SHOWN UNDER WRONG NAME WITHOUT PROTEST.

The Spider, Team Mate of The Fly, Competed Earlier in the Week as The Only Way - Mr. Billings Takes Three Prizes in One Class - Ace of Spades Wins. brilliant finale despite the miserable weather conditions, last evening. In the dealers' class, the DeCernea Stables entry The Spider, one of the team composed of The Spider and The Fly, was readily seen to be The Only Way shown earlier in the week and winner of fourth premium in his class. No protests were lodged.

The evening's classes opened a little late with the saddle tandems. Mrs. Gerken's grand ribbon winners, My Lady Dainty and Mistress Nell, won the blue, clearly over-shadowing the field. Their handling was admirable throughout. Golden Rod and Commander from the Livingston Stable took the second from the crack Billings bays Pawnee, Jr., and Pawnee W Class 18 followed, for harness horses, above

15.2, and the Chicago cracks Marcus Logan and his mate, Dandy Logan, together with others of the Billings lot, showed. It was for the first time during the week a Billings class, the Western millionaire sending the majority of exhibits into the ring. The blue ribbon went to Mr. Billings's last season's class, the Western millionaire sending the majority of exhibits into the ring. The blue ribbon went to Mr. Billings's last season's purchase, Princess Naiad, who is said to have a harness record of 2:21½, with former Mayor Grant's chestnut gelding Atlanta second. This was the only break, as the Billings stable secured third with Richard H. and the white with Marcus Logan. A set of twelve took the tanbark in Class 3, for medium-weight saddlers, among them W. Stanton Elliott's new chestnut, Meteor, nearly the class of old Flashight. Mr. Miller's superb Oriflamme, last season a winner; the widely known park saddler. Golden Rod, Miss Belle Beach on the Billings mare Pauline, while the same stable sent the winner of Thursday evening. Lightfoot, into the competition

All the riders handled their mounts well, and each was a well-nigh perfect model of the saddler up to 153-pound limit. The experts selected to award the rosettes, after fully twenty minutes' sorting over walking fox-trotting, cantering, backing and in-and-out work, gave the coveted blue to Harry T. Peters's elegantly contoured coal black Ace of Spades, but other than the matter of dock carriage the Elliott newcomer, Meteor, clearly outpointed the winner. Meteor's all-around work and manners were capityating. In the tandems Lord Brilliant and Lord Golden won out handily; subsequently Lord Brilliant balked and acted meanly, bothering the attendants not a little. They were late getting to Class 32, for heavy weight saddlers, up to carrying 200 pounds. Five filed into the ring for the honors, among them old Ragtime and the piebald Bertie, seen here before. It went to Bertie, with Mrs. Gerken's entry, Nell, second over Madison Chief, It was a mediocre class and took altogether too much time to judge. The awards:

Class 11.—Saddle tandem. Conformation and siyle, 30 per cent.—won by Mrs. John Gerken's My Lady Dalnty and Mistress Nell; Phillip Livingston's Golden Rod and Commander, second; C. K. G. Billings's b. m. Princess Naiad; Philord Farm's ch. g. Atlanta,

Much of the uncertainty regarding Columbia's rowing plans was dispelled at yester-day's meeting of the 'Varsity boat club. Columbia will not row the Annapolis cadets at all this year, reports to the contracy notwithstanding. There will be several brushes with New York University the first of which is scheduled for May 17 over the Speedway course on the Harlem. A third contest which is not yet definitely decided but which is very probable is a two-mile race between the Yale and Columbia freshmen on Lake Whitney on May 31, the date of Yale's annual spring regatta. The most vexatious rumor that was disposed of was regarding the junior. spring regatal. The most vexanious rumor that was disposed of was regarding the junior Varsity race. It had been reported that Columbia would abandon the Schuylkill course and go to Lake Cayuga in order to meet. Harvard and Cornell. No invitation to go to Ithaca has come from tornell and as Pennsylvania has refused to row on Lake Cayuga this year, Columbia and Pennsylvania at least will row at Philadelphia on Decoration Day and there is every reason to believe that Cornell will also be on hand at the scheduled time.

Josiah C. McCracken, the noted Pennsylvania half back and hammer thrower came out yesterday to assist Morley in coaching the Columbia football candidates. He wore his Pennsylvania antiform and got in the tackling. Ex-Capt Berrien and Bayard Boyesen and Van Hoevenberg also reported and drilled the green candidates in the elements of the game.
